

Notes on Contributors vii

Editors' Introduction 1

PART 1 Theories of Policing in Literature and Literary Criticism

- 1 After Theory: Politics against the Police? 15
Vladimir Biti
- 2 Theory Policing Reading or the Critic as Cop: Revisiting Said's The World, the Text, and the Critic 31
Reingard Nethersole
- 3 Le cercle carré: On Spying and Reading 44
Calin-Andrei Mihailescu

PART 2 Case Studies

- 4 Dear Leader! Big Brother! On Transparency and Emotional Policing 73
Sowon S. Park
- 5 The Charisma of Theory 89
Marko Juvan
- 6 Within or beyond Policing Norms: Yuri Lotman's Theory of Theatricality 111
Kyohei Norimatsu
- 7 The Oppressive and the Subversive Sides of Theoretical Discourse 135
Péter Hajdu

PART 3 Policing Literary Theory across the World

- 8 Roman Nikolayevich Kim and the Strange Plots of His Mystery Novellas 149
Norio Sakanaka
- 9 Kafka, Snowden, and the Surveillance State 166
John Zilcosky
- 10 The Genetics of Morality: Policing Science in Dudintsev's White Robes 178
Yvonne Howell
- 11 In Lieu of a Conclusion: Policing as a Form of Epistemology - Three Narratives of the Japanese Empire 195
Takayuki Yokota-Murakami

Index of Subjects 207

Index of Names 213