

The Role of Theology in the History and Philosophy of Science 1
Joshua M. Moritz

Abstract 1

Keywords 1

Bibliographic Introduction to "Science and Religion" 1

Part 1: Theology and the Historiography of Science 12

The Historical Roots of the Conflict Thesis 14

Evaluating the Conflict Thesis 17

From Conflict to Creative Tension and Creative Mutual Interaction 20

Human Dissection in the Middle Ages: A Case Study in Conflict or a Persistent Myth? 22

The Galileo Affair: The Smoking Gun in the War between Science and Religion? 28

The Galileo Affair: From Conflict to Creative Tension and Creative Mutual Interaction 48

Conclusion 50

Part 2: Theology and the Philosophical Foundations and Boundaries of Science 51

The General Presuppositions of Science 53

Aesthetic, Epistemic, and Moral Values That Shape Science 53

General Metaphysical Presuppositions of Science 62

Theological Foundations of the General Metaphysical Presuppositions of Science 69

Is Ontological Naturalism a General Presupposition of Science? 78

Particular and Contextual Metaphysical Presuppositions of Science 80

Does Science have Limits ? 85

Conclusion 90

Works Cited 91