

Introduction: Who's Lived Experience Is It Anyway? Monika dos Santos and Jean-Francois Pelletier	vii
Madness: A Revolutionary Rear-Guard Oisin Wall	3
'You can't label it and there's no umbrella': The Consumer Movement and the Social Construction of Mental Illness Kara Holmes and Fiona Ann Papps	21
Psychology's Madness: Solipsistic Denial of Relational Dependency David Lewis Wilson and Monika dos Santos	55
Has Autism Changed? Simon Cushing	75
Creativity and 'Madness': Myths, Constructions and Realities Jonathan Appel, Dohee Kim-Appel, Erin Snapp, Claire Whiteman, Mary Cassidy and Rebecca Stanic	95
The Lived Experience of Mental Health Issues as a Constructive Asset for Redefining and Measuring Citizenship: A Social Enterprise Jean-Francois Pelletier	119
The Experience of Things: Memory, Photographic Representation and Emotions in Psychiatric Field Research Carlo Orefice	141