

Acknowledgements XI

References and Abbreviations XII

- 1 The Interaction-Recognition-Antinomy Thesis 1
 - 1 The Interaction Component 7
 - 2 The Recognition Component 23
 - 3 The First Antinomy 30
 - 4 The Second Antinomy 37
 - 5 An Outline of the Argument 45
 - Appendix: A Note on Translation 48

- 2 Analytical Marxism 60
 - 1 The Project of Analytical Marxism 61
 - 2 Dialectical Contradiction 67
 - 3 Intrastructuration 78
 - 4 Conclusion 83

- 3 Commodity Form Philosophy 85
 - 1 Use-Value 92
 - 2 Value 96
 - 3 Commodities and Goods 102
 - 4 Use-Values, Goods and Duties to the Whole 109
 - 5 The Commodity, Dialectical Contradiction and Real Abstraction 117
 - 6 Antinomies of the Commodity Form 121

- 4 Action 129
 - 1 Capital's Description of Human Labour 129
 - 2 In-Order-To Motives and Because Motives 132
 - 3 Orientation to an In-Order-To Motive 136
 - 4 The Form of an In-Order-To Motive 138
 - 5 Action and Abstraction 139

- 5 Social Relations 143
 - 1 Marx's General Remarks on Social Relations 145
 - 2 Schütz's Typology of Social Action 152
 - 3 Interaction as a Relation of Mutual Affecting 155

4	The Problem of Normativity	159
5	An Interactional Conception of a Social Relation of Production	162
6	Some Objections	164
7	The Objection from Structure	165
8	The Objection from Consciousness	167
9	The Problem of Legality	169
6	System and Bearer	178
1	A Generalised Interactions Conception of Social Structure	179
2	Sociological Thought and the Concept of Social Role	187
3	The Features of a System	191
4	The Capitalist Structure as a System	193
5	The Capitalist Structure as a System (Continued)	198
6	Actors as Bearers	200
7	Purchase and Sale	207
1	Exchange	210
2	Independent Exchange of Products	215
3	Possession: Savigny and Marx	218
4	Commodities and Money	223
8	Exploitation	231
1	The Quantitative Marxist View of Exploitation	232
2	A Non-normative Concept of Exploitation	237
3	Bazard, Marx and the Five Conditions for Exploitation	238
4	The Benefit Condition	242
5	The Harm Condition	242
6	The Causal Condition	256
7	The Consequence Condition	257
8	The Means-to-Ends Condition	257
9	The System Universalisability Conception of Exploitation	258
10	Capitalist Labour-Exploitation	260
11	The Exploitation and Need Problem	264
12	The Agency Problem	267
13	The Capitalism, Rights and Injustice Problem	270
14	Summary	289
9	Recognition and Self-Ownership	290
1	A Pragmatic Conception of Recognition	291

2	Possession, Private Property Ownership and Recognition	300
3	As-If Mutual Recognition in Purchase and Sale	308
4	Marx's Concept of a Person	312
5	Security and Self-Ownership	314
10	Recognition and Bureaucratic Domination	320
1	Marx's General Conception of Domination	323
2	Domination and the Will	323
3	Domination and Alien Will	325
4	Domination and Recognition	328
5	Marx's Conception of Domination Restated	332
6	Formal Subsumption and Real Subsumption	333
7	Domination and Formal Subsumption	340
8	Domination and Real Subsumption	345
9	The Recognition Condition and Occupational Identity	352
10	Summary	359
11	Antinomy and State Form	360
1	A Derivation of the Juridical Logic of Freedom of Choice	363
2	Individual Human Rights	372
3	The System of Capitalist Production and Popular Sovereignty	380
4	The Antinomy of Natural Rights and Popular Authorisation	387
5	Parliamentary Representation	391
6	The Separation of Powers	399
12	The Rights-Antinomy and Class Struggle	405
1	An Antagonistic Interdependency Conception of Classes	408
2	Class Antagonism at the Macro-Level	417
3	The Self-Consciousness of the Commodity	421
4	Capital's Antinomy Passage: A Reconstruction	425
5	The Rights-Antinomy and the Capitalist Class Interest Claim	447
6	Interest Privilege and Possible Practical Awareness	454
7	The Rights-Antinomy, Recognition and Union Organisation	457
8	Working-Class Movements	468
9	A Resolution of Both Antinomies	470
	Conclusion	479
1	Exploitation and Injustice	479
2	The Disappearance of Analytical Marxism	484

- 3 The State of Capitalist Society 488
- 4 Revolutionary Awareness 490

Bibliography 495

Index 517